Since 2008, Merit Badge pamphlets (books) are in full color. The pages are glossy to better stand up to use outdoors. Color charts, graphs, diagrams, tables, and pictures are on almost every page. Answers can be quickly found to almost every question. Merit Badge books are short and to the point. Experts from across the US donate their time to edit and update each one. Some contributors are very famous such as Eagle Scout Stephen Spielberg who worked on Cinematography. This merit badge explores various forms of government, ways nations interact, and the USA's role in the global community. Hopefully, a scout's awareness of global issues and willingness to expand concern outside of the local or national issues will grow from completing this merit badge. As with the other citizenship merit badges, Citizenship In The World is mostly learning and then explaining, discussing, and describing concepts. There are no doing requirements with this merit badge, and a scout can complete it entirely alone. This is a great badge for a scout to do at home with very little interaction with a counselor. Since it is an eagle-required merit badge, Citizenship In The World is close to the top of all merit badges with about 53,000 scouts earning it each year. Comments: Jun 10, 2013 - Sandra KottenDoes a Scout need to talk to a merit badge counselor BEFORE completing the requirements and worksheets for Citizenship of the World? My son will be a "Student Ambassador" this summer for People to People in Canada. It is a great opportunity and would help with his Citizenship of the World merit badge. Does he need to talk to his merit badge counselor before he starts this merit badge?Jun 10, 2013 - Scouter Paul@Sandra - First off, the 'worksheets' are not part of the merit badge process. They are just tools that some scouts might use to help keep their progress in order. I would absolutely recommend that the scout discuss his upcoming opportunities with his merit badge counselor BEFOREHAND. There's no reason not to. If a scout tells a counselor that he already completed some requirement, the counselor may or may not count that progress - it's up to the counselor. Some requirements are easier to verify than others.Jun 24, 2014 - First Class Scouter - LV300This is an Eagle Required MB and that is something big. I would talk to a counselor first.Jul 27, 2015 - DawnI have a quick question I live in a rural area and the last requirement for them to talk to a scout from a different country is very hard. What would be some suggestions for this type of situation?Jul 27, 2015 - Scouter Paul@Dawn - Requirement 7c is just one of 5 options and your son needs to do only 2 of them. There is a Pen Pals system here on Boy Scout Trail where he could connect with some other scout troop. Or, he could connect with scouts through ScoutLink.net Oct 17, 2015 - Brian LangenbergDawn,I would be happy to have your son speak with my 15 year old son (1st class, about to make Star) by skype or phone.Yours in Scouting, Brian LangenbergTroop 18 St. GilesOak Park, ILJan 04, 2022 - LucasDoes requirement 7c mean any type of concert or are there limitations?Jan 04, 2022 - Scouter Paul@Lucas - Any concert that the merit badge counselor agrees falls in the category of "ethnic concert". If I had the chance, I'd go see The HU Band. Mar 17, 2022 - Bob McGNote that 6a asks for how the United States is accredited. However, Scouts can be confused because the merit badge book describes how diplomats are accredited, and even highlights the word accredited as if the text is giving the answer to this requirement. The answer as to how the US is accredited, or really any country, isn't talked about in the merit badge book, which is a shame since this is one of the better merit badge books that actually offers help towards the requirements.Jul 14, 2022 - Frank S RazemJamboree on the Internet (www.jotajoti.info/), typically held in October is a great place for Scout to "Visit with a student or Scout from another country and discuss the typical values, holidays, ethnic foods, and traditions practiced or enjoyed there", requirement 7c.
